Simple Sending

Utilising the innovative parcel portal technology developed for the TMR pkB3S volumetric terminal, the ptGO online shipping solution streamlines the way you weigh, label and send regular packages. Ideal for sending varying weights of small, medium and large parcels up to 30kg, the system consists of an accurate postal scale and bespoke label printer, linked to a cloud-based carrier portal that offers UK and international carriers at discounted prices. It helps you get parcels out on time, using the best value delivery services, and consolidates all your shipping costs into one reporting system.

The Mailing Room

The Mailing Room's ptGO online shipping solution makes booking, shipping and tracking your parcels simple, allowing you to easily keep up-to-date with the changing market offerings.

Compare Rates

By entering the shipping address and parcel dimension, the consignment details are instantly fed into the carrier portal, which gives you the flexibility to select the best delivery rate and most suitable service. Simply click on the best option from your preferred supplier and the system prints out an industry approved thermal shipping label, whilst registering your booking in the online manifest, eliminating the need for manually-produced paperwork. Once you confirm the daily manifest, normally pre 4pm for next-day despatch, the ptGO carrier portal automatically books your parcel deliveries, triggering a same-day collection from your carrier.

Digital Scale & Printer

The ptGO parcel carrier portal simplifies and streamlines the way your mailroom or despatch department books and tracks parcel deliveries. By integrating an accurate digital scale and industry-standard label printer with your laptop or desktop PC, linked to a Cloud-based portal of up-to-the-minute carrier rates, it enables you to enter package information and select the sending option best suited to your shipment.

If you are sending out goods of varying weights in relatively standard boxes and packages, there is no need for the sophisticated volumetric weight measurements and calculations of the TMR pkB3S terminal; instead, the finished package is placed on the digital scale and the precise weight is autopopulated into the shipping screen, with package dimensions either selected from a drop-down menu of your regular sizes, or entered manually.

The Last Mile

The value of the UK parcel market is around £10 billion annually and the industry's latest Parcel Shipping Index forecasts a 20% increase in volume each year, thanks to a large shake-up in delivery trends and technologies. At the same time, logistics providers have increased the variety of delivery options available over what is known as The Last Mile, from courier depot to delivery address.

This has resulted in more competition within the courier and postal services market, driving firms to continuously revise their carrier rates and shorten delivery times. To keep pace with these market changes and ensure using the most affordable parcel shipping options and delivery models, your company needs to adopt similar cutting-edge technology that helps standardise and simplify parcel shipping and minimises time-consuming record keeping.

The Parcel Shipping Index predicts the UK could see sending at 3.9 billion parcels by 2021 in line with the continual growth in e-commerce, resulting in shorter delivery times, lower costs and increased consumer choice.

Payment Tracking

Whether you utilise the collection benefits of one preferred carrier or prefer the in-built flexibility of selecting specific service options as required, ptGO allows your business to save money and consolidate the payments with a single Direct Debit. All your parcel shipping expenses are controlled in one central billing system, making it straightforward to reconcile with settlement due within 7 days of despatch, whilst taking advantage of improved rates through the parcel portal.

Mailroom Mix

The Mailing Room's ptGO parcel portal is a modern, streamlined and easy-to-use system for handling packages and parcels, enabling you to track shipping costs and courier deliveries, both at home and overseas. It lends a highly professional touch to the sending of packages, making a good impression on customers, and dovetails neatly with your franking machine operation. While presentable postal items enhance the mailing of direct marketing material, statutory notices, appointment confirmations, annual reports and billing paperwork, the ptGO parcel solution allows the timely despatch of customer orders, spare parts and consumables, membership packs, bulkier catalogues and other oversized items at a reduced cost. Moreover, this modern mailroom mix is backed by TMR's renowned customer service, including our own fully trained service engineers and consumables team, to make sure your mailroom is always on the go.

The KISS Principle

Keep It Simple Shipping

1. Ship

Enter who the parcel is going to, either manually or from your address book

2. Weigh

Place parcel on the scale and select, or enter the dimensions plus contents

3. Book

Select your preferred service based on delivery requirement, such as next day.

4. Print

Check the details, click print label, affix to your parcel and manifest when ready.
